

List of Halal Products in India

1. Halal-Certified Meat and Poultry Products

- Al Kabeer: Frozen chicken, mutton, kebabs, and seafood products.
- Seara: Frozen chicken and other poultry products.
- Amira: Halal goat and lamb meat.
- FreshToHome: Offers halal chicken, fish, mutton, and preservative-free products.
- Licious: Halal-certified chicken, mutton, and seafood, available in major cities.
- Suguna Chicken: Halal-certified fresh and frozen poultry products.
- Godrej Real Good Chicken: Halal-certified fresh chicken available in most cities.
- Zorabian: Chicken and processed chicken products like nuggets and sausages with halal certification.
- Al Noor Meats: Offers halal-certified meat products.

2. Halal-Certified Snacks and Processed Foods

- Lotte Choco Pie: Halal-certified as per official sources.
- Britannia: Some biscuits, cakes, and dairy products with halal certification (check specific labels).
- Haldiram's: Many snacks and sweets are halal-certified (verify packaging).
- Bikano: Halal-certified namkeen and sweets.
- Kwality Walls: Some ice creams and frozen desserts are halal-certified.
- Parle: Biscuits like Parle-G and some snacks are halal-certified.
- Halal India-certified snacks: Available in supermarkets like Big Bazaar and online platforms.
- Pran: A Bangladeshi brand with halal-certified chips, snacks, and drinks widely available in India.

3. Halal-Certified Beverages

- Rooh Afza: Popular fruit syrup with halal certification.
- PepsiCo: Halal-certified beverages like Pepsi, Mountain Dew, and 7Up (check labels).
- Coca-Cola: Some variants like Coca-Cola, Sprite, and Fanta meet halal standards.
- Dabur: Real Fruit Juices, though specific variants must be checked for halal certification.
- Tropicana: Halal-compliant juices, especially their fruit variants.

- Parle Agro: Frooti and Appy Fizz are widely considered halal, though it's always best to verify.
- Hamdard: Products like Safi and various herbal drinks are halal-certified.

4. Halal-Certified Dairy Products

- Amul: Select products like milk, cheese, and butter are halal-certified (check individual items).
- Nestlé: Dairy products like milk, yogurt, and butter may have halal certification.
- Mother Dairy: Some milk, paneer, and curd products are halal-certified.
- Ananda: Milk and paneer products that may meet halal standards (verify product labels).
- Nandini: Dairy products available in southern India with halal certification on some items.

5. Halal-Certified Confectionery

- Haribo: Imported gummy candies that carry halal certification (check specific variants).
- Alpino: Peanut butter and health foods with halal certification.
- Halal Candies: Jelly Belly, Halal Candies by Jannat, and imported brands with specific halal labeling.
- Ferrero Rocher: Some products available in India may have halal certification (check labels).
- Chocolates: Cadbury, Nestlé, and other major brands may offer halal-certified chocolates (specific products must be checked).

6. Halal Cosmetics and Personal Care

- Himalaya: Some skincare and personal care products meet halal standards.
- Dabur: Herbal personal care products such as shampoos, oils, and toothpaste may have halal certification.
- Forest Essentials: Ayurvedic skincare products that may meet halal requirements (verify before purchasing).
- Soulflower: Halal-certified soaps and essential oils.
- Iba Halal Care: One of the first Indian cosmetic brands to be halal-certified, offering makeup, skincare, and haircare products.
- Patanjali: Certain products may adhere to halal standards, though it's advisable to check each product.
- Vicco: Halal-compliant dental care and skincare products.
- Biotique: Herbal cosmetics that may align with halal principles.

7. Halal-Certified Restaurants and Food Chains

- KFC: Some branches serve halal chicken (check with the outlet before ordering).
- Subway: Halal meat available at select outlets (verify with the specific location).
- Domino's Pizza: Some branches offer halal-certified chicken (check with the outlet).
- Barbeque Nation: Offers halal-certified meat options in many locations across India.
- McDonald's India (West & South): Halal-certified chicken and beef-free menu.
- Paradise Biryani: Many branches serve halal-certified biryani (verify with the outlet).

8. Halal-Certified Spices and Condiments

- Everest: Most masala powders and spices carry halal certification.
- MDH: Halal-certified spices are widely available.
- Eastern Spices: A wide range of halal-certified spices.
- Catch Spices: Some spices meet halal standards.
- Aachi Masala: Halal-certified masala powders and condiments.
- Saffola: Halal-certified cooking oils and oats.

9. Halal Supplements and Nutritional Products

- MuscleBlaze: Certain protein powders and supplements with halal certification.
- Herbalife: Nutritional supplements that meet halal standards (verify specific products).
- Nature's Basket: Offers imported halal-certified products, including nutritional items.
- GNC India: Halal-certified vitamins and supplements (specific products need verification).
- Amway: Some of their nutritional supplements may carry halal certification.

10. Halal-Certified Breads and Bakery Items

- Modern Bread: Halal-certified bread, cakes, and buns.
- Britannia Bread: Some bread variants have halal certification.
- Harvest Gold: Breads and bakery products with halal labeling.
- Bonn Bread: Halal-certified bakery items like bread, buns, and rusks.
- Sapphire Bakery: Halal-certified cakes and bakery products available in select cities.

11. Halal Pharmaceuticals

- Cipla: Some over-the-counter and prescription drugs may be halal-certified (verify packaging).
- Hamdard: Halal-certified herbal remedies and health tonics like Safi.
- Zydus Wellness: Some wellness and healthcare products meet halal standards.
- Multani: Halal-certified Ayurvedic medicines.

- Abbott India: Some pharmaceuticals that meet halal guidelines (verify specific products).